MEET WARIGIA

As a single mother of three, providing for my family taught me more than I ever learned at Harvard. As the mother of a girl scout and a boy scout, I teach my children the importance of community service and giving.

All of the values we have are built on the foundation of faith I received from my grandparents who taught me "By wisdom a house is built, and through understanding, it is established;" (Proverbs 24:3 NIV)

Warigia the professor

Dr. Bowman is an international expert on public policy, infrastructure, water, and energy. She currently teaches water law, natural resources law, and energy law at the University of Tulsa College of Law.

Before becoming a professor she served as an honors trial attorney in the environmental division of the U.S. Department of Justice, where she tried cases across the nation in federal court.

She earned her doctorate from the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University where she was the Hauser Fellow for Nonprofit Management.

She was the Barbara Jordan Scholar at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs and earned her Juris Doctorate with honors from the University of Texas at Austin School of Law.

She holds an undergraduate degree in history from Columbia College of Columbia University in New York, where she was the Harry S. Truman Scholar for Public Service.

WARIGA'S ISSUES

Modern & Efficient Grid

We need to conduct a grid audit and ensure that Oklahoma has the latest, most up-to-date, most efficient, most resilient electric grid in the country.

Diverse Energy Portfolio

Oklahoma is a leader in oil and gas and wind. Oklahoma should diversify our energy portfolio to make sure that we are a leader in biomass, solar, hydroelectric and geothermal as well.

State of the Art Internet

Every county in Oklahoma should have a competitive telecommunications market and broadband Internet. Children should not have to sit on the corner outside of McDonald's to access online learning.
